Spirituality of the Old Testament: How the Old Testament Helps Us Walk with God

This seminar will explore the rich contributions the Old Testament can make to our understanding and practice of spirituality. Themes will include: faith, doubt, protest and lament, integrity, sojourn, loyalty, prayer, hope, and work. The course aims to explain the abiding significance of the Old Testament so that participants gain familiarity with key scriptural resources and incorporate them into their own walk with God.

Taught by Michael Woodcock M.Div.;Ph.D.
Tuesday evenings *, 6:45 pm–9:15 pm
January 24–April 4, 2017
(* in place of one Tuesday class there will be a Saturday morning retreat)
First Baptist Church of North Hollywood

(818) 763-4356

Michael Woodcock, a graduate of Azusa Pacific University (B.A.) and Fuller Theological Seminary (M.Div.; PhD) enjoys discovering the riches of the Old Testament scriptures in company with his students. An ordained American Baptist minister, he is involved deeply in local church ministry, having served as the Pastor of First Baptist Church of North Hollywood for the past twenty-four years. His ministry emphasizes preaching, teaching, community outreach, worship arts, and spiritual formation in the growing, changing context of the NoHo Arts District.
