

Practical Avenues for Inter-Religious Dialogue

Jewish, Christian, and Muslim Perspectives

Saturday, January 31, 2015

Location: Westwood Presbyterian Church
10822 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90024-4303

Time: 6:30PM - 8:00PM
Reception to Follow

This event is the culmination of the seminar course Judaism, Christianity, and Islam: Interrelated Religious Traditions, which is designed to introduce students from a broad spectrum of backgrounds, to an analysis of the complex interrelatedness of the three traditions who trace themselves back to Abraham, Sarah, and Hagar.

This event is also open to members of the wider Los Angeles community who are interested in exploring Judaism, Christianity, and Islam in dynamic interaction with each other.

Moderator

Dr. Reinhard Krauss

Faculty, New Theological Seminary of the West

Panelists

Chaplain Judith Sommerstein

Little Company of Mary Medical Center, San Pedro

Dr. Judy Siker

Visiting Professor of New Testament Studies, Loyola Marymount University, Los Angeles

Ms. Milia Islam-Majeed

Executive Director, South Coast Interfaith Council, Long Beach

Free and Open to the Public

New Theological Seminary of the West ♦ <http://ntswest.org/>

Co-sponsored by the Academy for Judaic, Christian and Islamic Studies at UCLA